Prologue

The achievement of peace has eluded man since the beginning of time. Man is now involved in a search for peace as the solution for all problems. Talking is not enough. Some youths have responded by giving of themselves through the Peace Corps and Vista. Others have dropped out of life completely using the excuse, "It's not worth the trouble."

There have been many Impossible Dreams realized in the past few years. Through our combined efforts, we can bring this "impossibility" closer to being realized in our generation.

"Come on people now,

Smile on your brother

Everybody get together,

Try to to love one another right now."

from "Get Together"

Coffee Break

SENIORS

We are now involved in the most trying phase of life, where we decide which goals are held most valuable by us. Then we decide whether we shall sit back in apathy or set out to leave our mark on the world. Our generation, more than any other, has shown this latter tendency, that is, to forge ahead and try to change present standards for the better.

"What's it all about

When you sort it out, Alfie,

Are we meant to take more Than we give?"

CLASSES

An innate impulse in man is to better himself. This is the primary purpose of education, which is necessary to broaden our interpretation of life. To accept fully what we learn from both our classes and our experiences, we must be able to put aside our narrow-minded opinions which stifle our growth as a person.

"Doesn't have a point of view,

Knows not where he's going to.

Isn't he a bit like you and me?"

from "Nowhere Man"

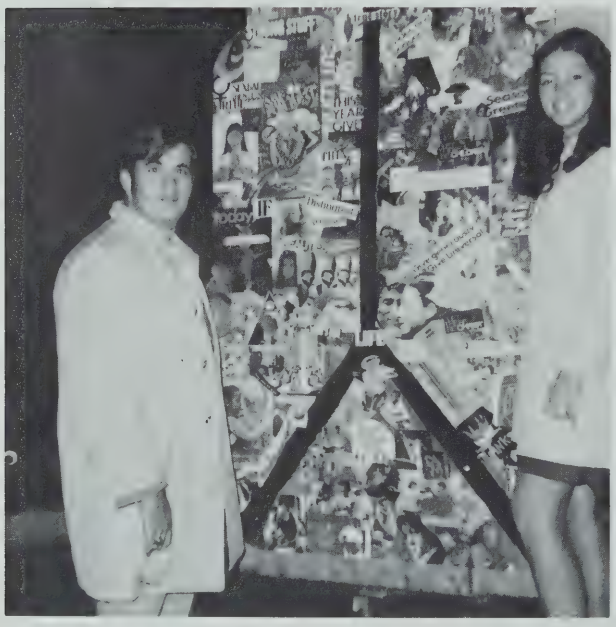
by Lennon and McCartney

Carol Poirier, Alan Biagiotti, Steve Martin, and Richard Zylicz add the final touches to their Peace collage

Leisurely searching for meaningful pictures are Eileen Pessotti, Pat Sullivan, Steve Martin, and Karen Mullane

Alan Biagiotti and Carol Poirier proudly display the finished product

Banners on parade herald the beginning of the Mass for Peace



Religion

Juniors Jackie Allard, Theresa Boulanger, and Diane Poirier look over materials on business schools

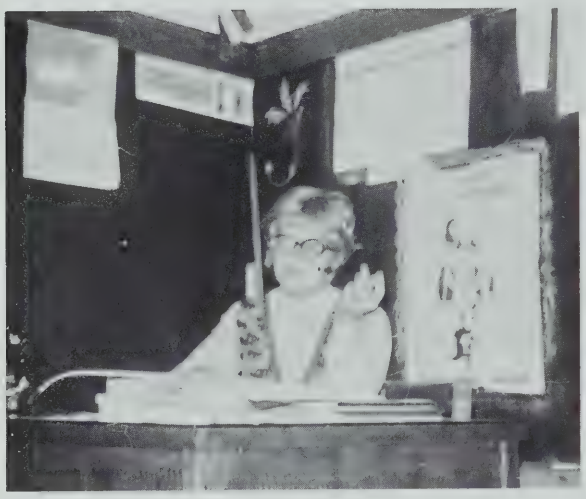
Pauline Scanlon searches for her file as Kevin Donoghue searches for his future

Guidance

Alan Biagiotti listens attentively to Sr. Anne Genevieve

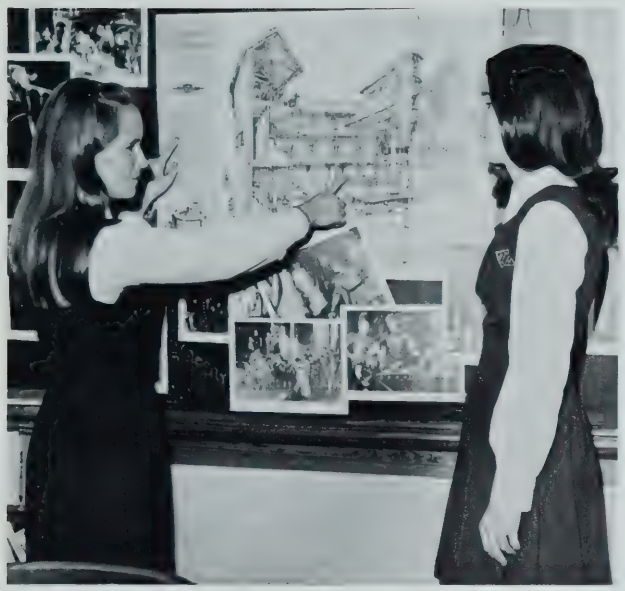
Surveying a catalogue on Health are Marie Pierre Louis and Carol Racicot

Eddie Ghilardi demonstrates a new step in ballet to Bob Forshay



"And besides that..." says Miss Dorsey as she tries to get a point across to a bewildered class

Mike Theriault questions if the record Pat Lange and Paul Hurley are playing is really for English

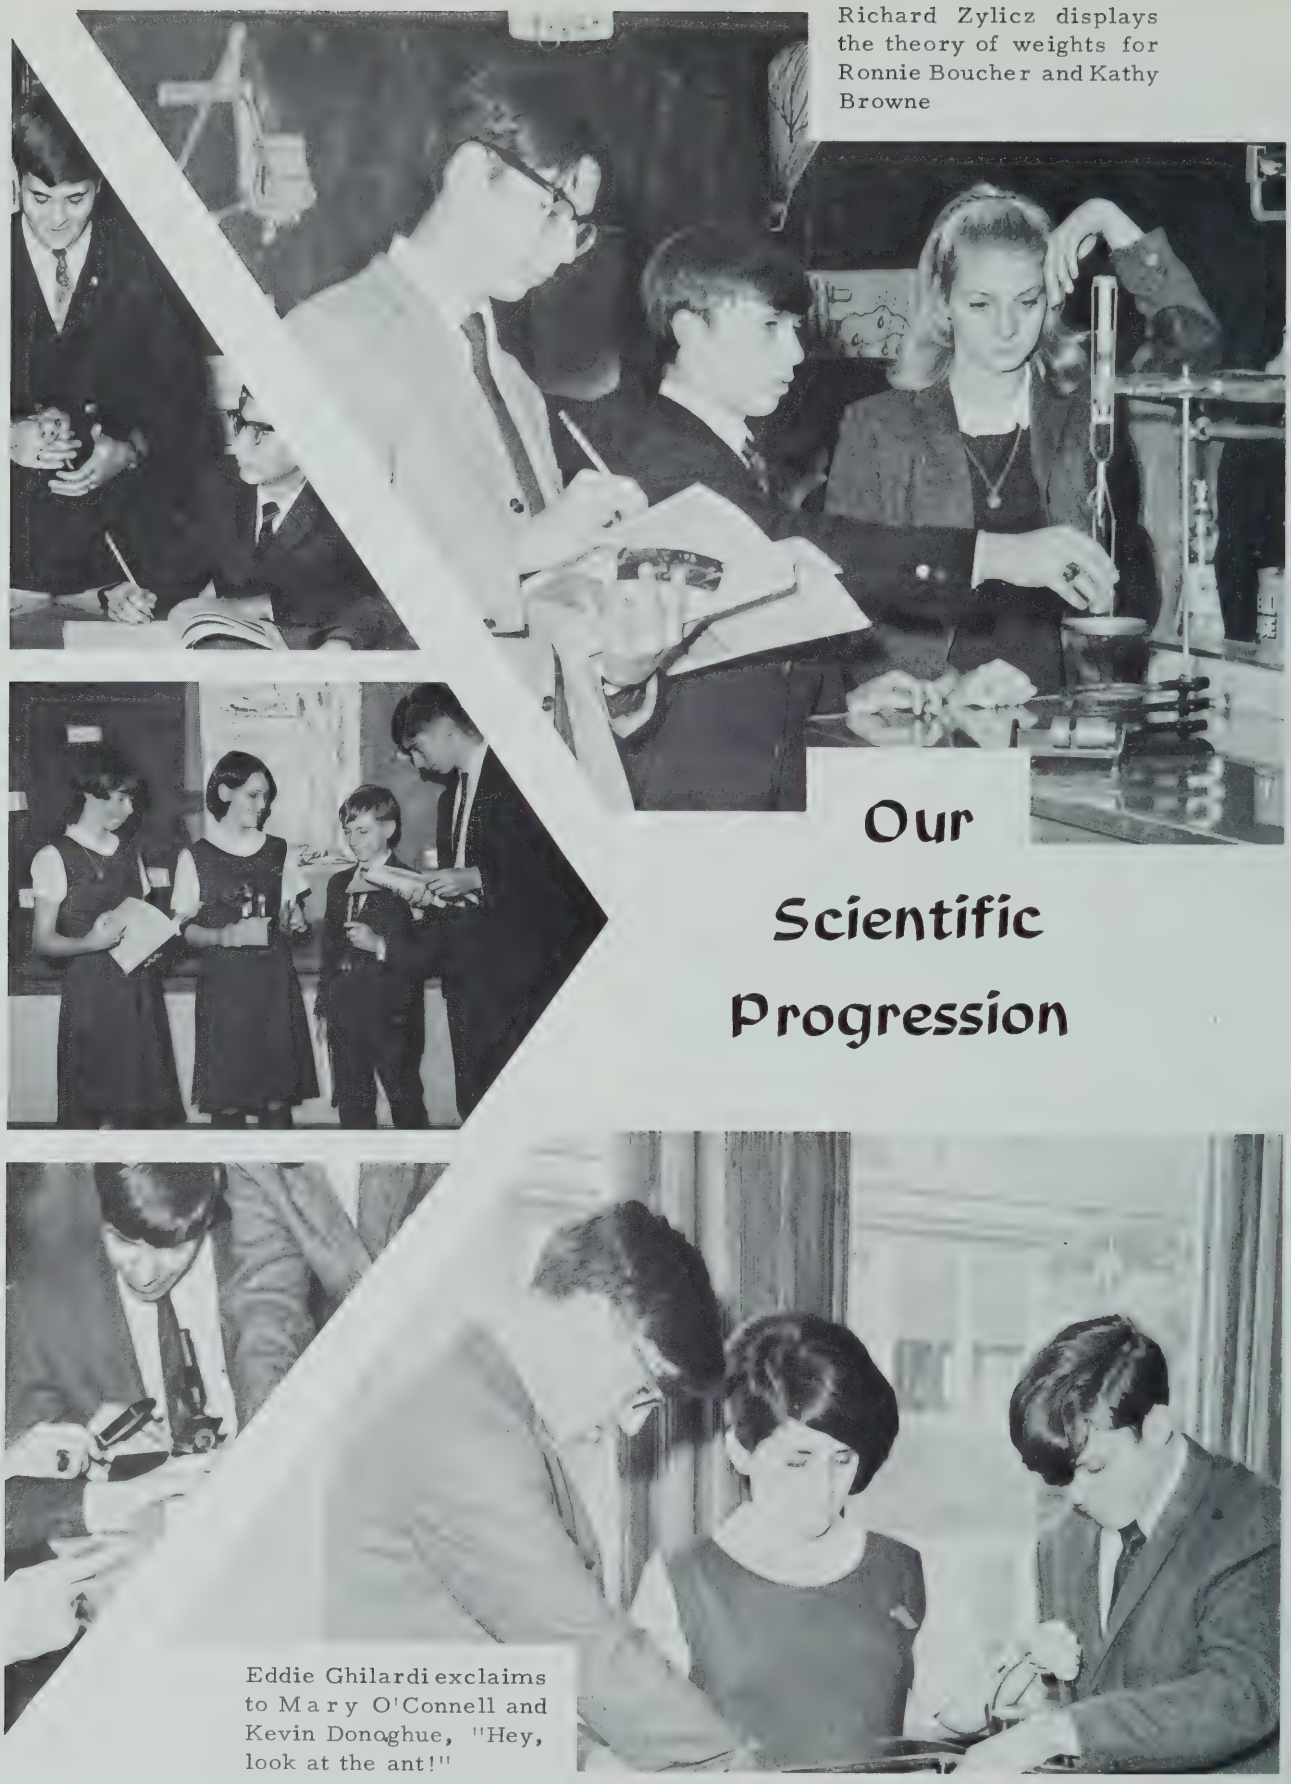


Mary Fitzgerald exhibits the Globe Playhouse to Joan Kelley

Steve Martin wards off Pauline Scanlon (alias Lady Macbeth) as Pat Sullivan watches

Jimmy Benoit accepts a verbal lashing, in french, from Rejeanne Theriault

Mike Theriault wakes just in time for the bell to end class

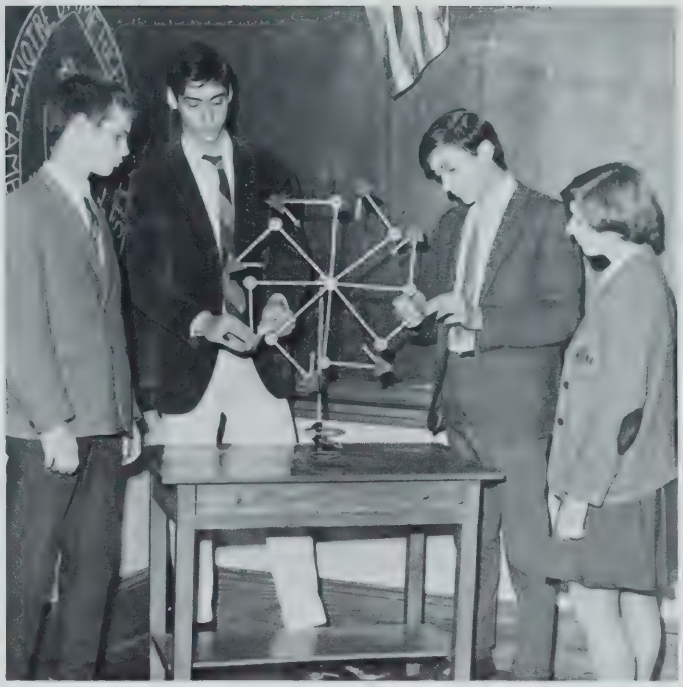


Richard Zylicz displays the theory of weights for Ronnie Boucher and Kathy Browne

Our Scientific Progression

Eddie Ghilardi exclaims to Mary O'Connell and Kevin Donoghue, "Hey, look at the ant!"

Bob Forshay demonstrates his fishing ability with the aid of Pauline Scanlon and Paul Hurley



John Martin and Kevin Perry construct a model of vectors while Michael Theriault and Pam Mahoney question their actions

Steve Martin and Ronnie Boucher, our physics majors, seem infatuated with the new material put on the board by Sr. Pauline

Algebra Trigonometry Geometry MATH

Mr. Vince is apparently discussing the more interesting aspects of Trig as seen by the expressions of John Martin, Janet Soley, Pat Sullivan, and Steve Martin

Eddie Ghilardi and Pauline Scanlon find Paul Hurley's knowledge of the sliderule amusing

Kevin Donoghue seems surprised that his didn't come out like Bob Forshay's

Are Kathy Browne and Richard Zylicz reading their Newsweeks? Kevin Donoghue does not seem to think so

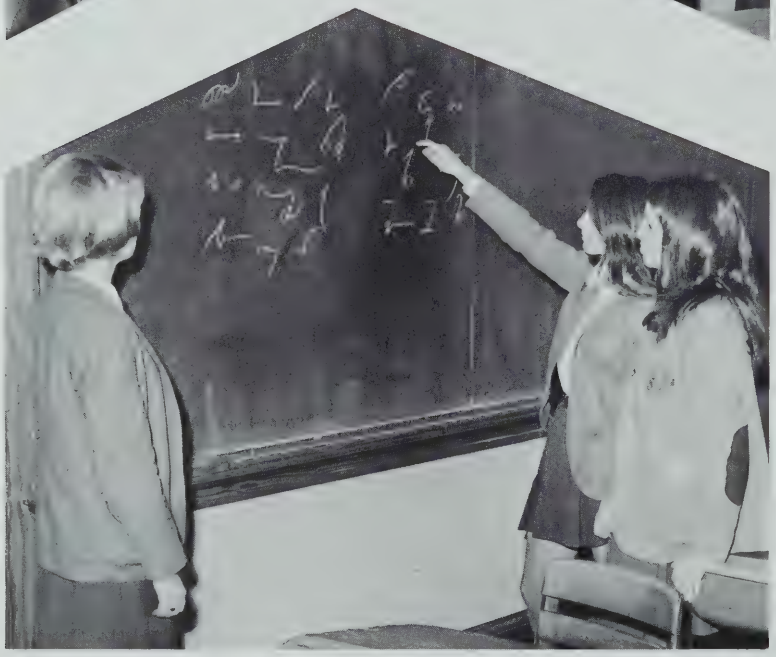
Kathy Browne nonchalantly fixes her typewriter while Ronnie Boucher and Janet Soley practice judo

Kevin Perry has a hunch that this is the place, but Rejeanne Theriault, Karen Mullane, Mike Theriault doubt it

While Shelly Arthur explains the fundamentals of general business to Mary Fitzgerald, Elaine Cyr thinks to herself, "Are you sure about that?"

Jimmy Benoit, Joan Kelley, Trishia Lange, and Alan Biagiotti ponder over their accounting sheets

Business



Karen Mullane had decided to divulge her own shorthand technique to Carol Poirier and Karen Hoy

Displaying their sources of wisdom are Karen Mullane, Joan Kelley, Elaine Cyr, and Carol Poirier

Jimmy Benoit shows Mary Fitzgerald and Shelly Arthur how to operate the paper cutter

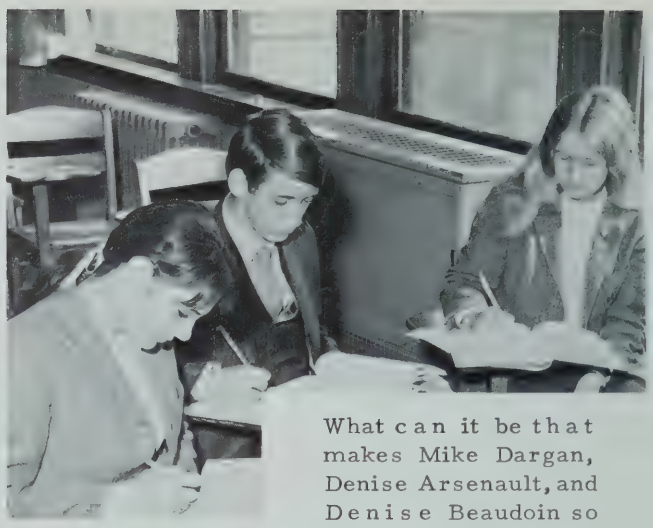
Eileen Pessotti and Karen Mullane seem to have found something out of place in the filing cabinet

Rejeanne Theriault and Trisha Lange seem to have mixed emotions about their forthcoming typing class

Alan Biagiotti demonstrates his ability to change a ribbon amid a circle of females Sr. Beatrice Gerard, Eileen Pessotti, and Rejeanne Theriault

Mary O'Connell has taken over the task of explaining Stock Exchange procedures to Jackie Allard, Diane Poirier, and Therese Boulanger

The Juniors find English Class a good time to catch up on the local gossip



What can it be that makes Mike Dargan, Denise Arsenault, and Denise Beaudoin so intent on taking notes?

Donny Halford's rendition of a French dialogue amuses Denise Arsenault, Denise Beaudoin, and John Melancon

JUNIORS

It can't be "Tale of Two Cities" that Dennis Blackall, Mike McNeil, and Diane Wamboldt are smiling at

Searching for their awards are Kathy Casey, Cathy McDougall, and Lolly Casey

Lynn Lewis, John Melancon, Brian Kelley, and Steve Simard search for their marks

Julie McEvoy has found just the right book as Gerald McCarthy waits patiently at the files

Sophomores

Are these our studious Sophomores?

Walter Struble tries pushing his newest novel upon Ellen O'Sullivan

Geometry doesn't seem to be the Soph's bag

Sophomores are intently studying their books on the cell looking for ribosomes

Walter Struble exclaims, "Did I do that?"

Ellen O'Neil, Diane Poirier, Maureen Cajolet, and Linda Torci grab a breath of the clear Cambridge air

Michelle Cote tries to explain the construction of the Eiffel Tower to Chris Young, Denise Kayal, Mary Goulard, and Robert Desharnais

Too intent on interpreting yeats to "smile for the camera" are Robert Desharnais, Corinne Wolfe, Collette Allard, and Peggy Browne

FROSH

Randy Donahue, Keith Biagiotti, Tommy Kelley, and Dennis Frechette collect the United Fund money

Kennie Rochon, Ellen Kelley, Billy Savini, and Cathy McDonald work together on their peace project

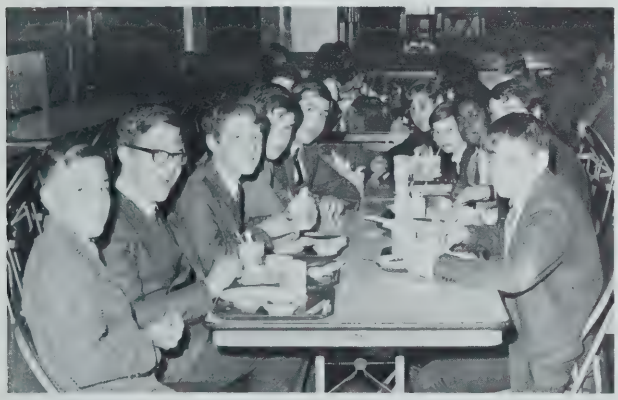
Sr. Anne Genevieve helps to orientate the Freshmen, but one seems to be missing

Patty Dunne, Denise Cote, Mary Donoghue, and Theresa Boudreau gloat over the success of the yearbook drive

Patty Arsenault and Raymond Arsenault are unconcerned about the picture Steve Collins is pointing out to Joanne Alicandro

A moment of relaxation is taken by some Freshmen

Frosh boys try out their first lunch at ND



What makes World History so fascinating? Only Dennis Frechette, Susan Collins, Annette Briand, and Jimmy Fitzgerald know

Another memorable French class is "enjoyed" by Joanne Torci, Eugenia Pinksen, and Thomas Moore

ACTIVITIES

While working with others we must sooner or later realize what we really are. When we are honest with ourselves and recognize our faults as well as our qualities, the relationships we have with others can only be more real and relevant. This honesty is very necessary because without it we shall continue to be blind to others' needs and our lives will be a complete waste.

"He's as blind as he can be,

Just sees what he wants to see.

Nowhere man, can you see me at all?"

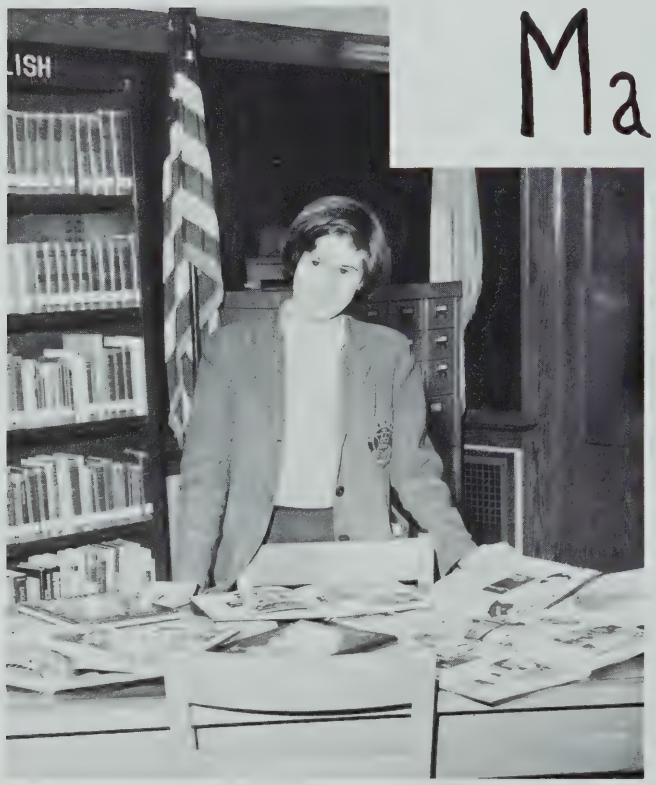
from "Nowhere Man"

by Lennon and McCartney

Carol Poirier seems to have struck upon a brilliant idea, but Janet Soley is not quite sure it will work

The yearbook staff takes time out to relax with Sr. Joan. Or is it a student takeover? ?

Stella Maris



Pam Mahoney, editor

Pauline Scanlon, Elaine Cyr, and Pat Sullivan don't seem to really be working hard

Editor Ann Donahue checks on copy with Eileen Pessotti

Michelle Cote, Theresa Pessotti, and Janet Melancon seem to be busy trying to meet a newspaper deadline

Alan Biagiotti, Carol Poirier, John Melancon concentrate on proofreading their articles

STUDENT LIFE

No person can stand alone forever and be complete. We have to make contact now to prepare for our future lives. Learning to get along is essential, but respect for our fellowman must also be acquired. While we are busy pursuing our own goals, there are others reaching out and needing us. Consideration of others need not hamper our ambitions and can only help to make ourselves a whole and real person.

"I have no need for friendship

Friendship causes pain.

It's laughter and it's loving

I disdain."

from "I Am a Rock"

by Simon & Garfunkel

Mr. Alfred A. Ghilardi

In Memoriam

He was like a father, or rather, a friend.
Before his life came to an end.
He'd do anything for us; yes, he was good.
He'd have given us the world if only he could.

The senior class will never forget him.
Death is a shock when we are just at life's brim.
To show that our thoughts remain
with him above,
We dedicate this page to Mr. Ghilardi
--with love.

ATHLETICS

Life, in many ways, is like a basketball game, the team is the whole of mankind and everyone can be a player unless he is benched by some extraordinary circumstance. Striving for personal glory may be acceptable sometimes, but it is most important to engage in team play. Another outstanding comparison is that in both life and a game the outcome should depend not only on what is gained but in how it is played.

"We're captives on the carousel of time,

We can't return we can only look behind from where we came

And go round and round in the circle game."

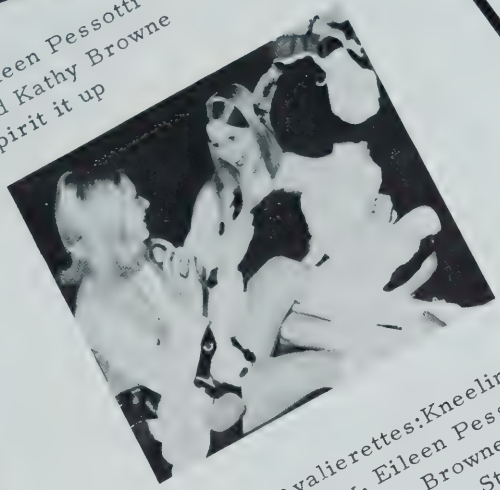
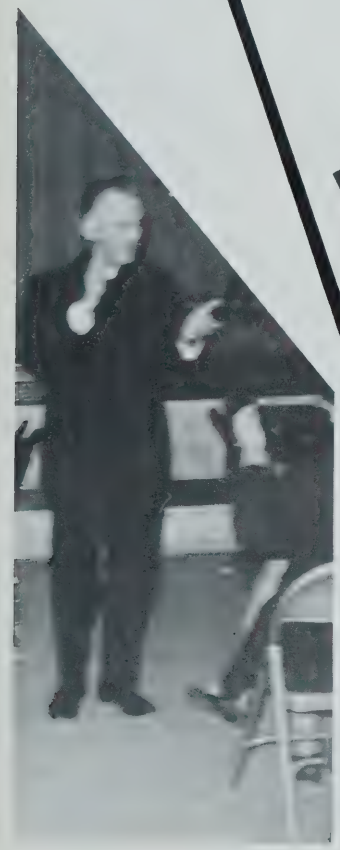
NDH SPIRIT



Eileen Pessotti and Kathy Browne spirit it up

N.D. Cavalierettes: Kneeling: Julie McEvoy, Eileen Pessotti, Captain, Kathleen Browne, Co-Capt., Edith Janelle. Standing: Anne Donahue, Michelle Cyr, Janet Soley, Margaret Browne, Theresa Pessotti, Mary Fitzgerald

Is our mascot, Denise Cyr on strike? ? ?



Father Frechette renders his version of N-N-N-O-T!

The spectators are dismayed, the girls find the game amusing

Michelle Cyr and Julie McEvoy sock it to us

"A big V, we want a victory"

. . . The girls wait patiently

As the judges weigh their decisions

Senior Thesis

I. Thoughts about the hereafter

(or . . . Is there a life after graduation?)

Seriously, graduation isn't the end, you know. It's just the beginning. And it could be the beginning of one of the most challenging and fulfilling times of your life. At New England Telephone.

It could be, that is, if you want a job with a challenge as big as your ambition. We need people at New England Telephone — all kinds. People who are sincerely interested in the future. And who are looking for more from their job than just work!

Your starting salary is good and you get automatic raises. You don't need experience! Your advancement is tailored to your talents. And you get excellent fringe benefits.

II. See your Guidance Counselor

She'll tell you when and where you can apply for an interview to find out what the "hereafter's" like at
